THE DEPUTY DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE

7 July 1976

Brig. Gen. William L. Shields, Jr. 2927 North George Mason Drive Arlington, Virginia 22207

Dear Bill:

Thank you for your pleasant note concerning my new assignment. It will be full of trials and tribulations but of opportunities as well.

I know that we will be in touch on matters of business as we move into the next several mouths, and I look forward to that association. I am certainly glad our paths have crossed since the time we first met in Grand Forks -- a highlight made so by meeting Ruth and getting that chocolate pie recipe.
